

SLB to acquire ChampionX

A message from Ziad Jeha, Midstream Director

Dear Midstream Team,

I am pleased to announce that SLB has reached an agreement to purchase ChampionX Corporation.

The combination of the two companies will strengthen SLB as a leader in the production space with world-class production chemicals and artificial lift technologies. ChampionX has a strong position in North America, which—combined with our own global presence—will allow us to expand our chemical and artificial lift portfolios and increase our go-to-market integration for our customers. Our existing production chemicals and artificial lift teams have built a leading, fit-for-basin offering, and the combination of ChampionX with our own expertise will accelerate and enhance our growth in this area.

SLB and ChampionX will continue to operate independently until the transaction closes. You should maintain regular communication with your usual point of contact regarding business matters that fall outside the scope of this acquisition transaction, just as you would under normal circumstances. It is business as usual.
